

CIRQUE WONDERLAND

Effective November 1st 2018

Watching/Observing Classes

For the safety of instructors and students: parents/guardians, family members and guests are to remain in the main waiting area outside of the studio during class time and private lessons.*

Towards the end of class, a coach will open the studio doors when it is appropriate for parents/guardians, family members and guests to observe students.

For your child's safety and to minimize distractions, all viewing must take place from the checkered floor of the Cirque Wonderland Lounge area only. Please refrain from talking to the students during their class. This includes asking them to pose for photos.

Parents are expected to supervise their non-participating children in the waiting room area and not allow them to wander the studio or play with studio or office equipment. Other minor children who are not enrolled in the class may wait in the waiting area if supervised by another designated adult.

A parent of any child must remain on premises during any free or trial class.

*Instructors will make reasonable accommodations for special circumstances.
